

Filipino Labor Agent Is Fined

M. J. Achuna, self-styled head of the "Filipino Federated Labor Union," must pay $150 to the city of Seattle for operating an employment agency without a license.

Police Judge John B. Gordon decided yesterday, after hearing the testimony of six Filipino boys who had given Achuna $3 each to get them a job, that the fine should be assessed. According to the youths, Achuna failed to produce.

Achuna's defense was that the Filipino Federated is a branch of the American Federation of Labor, but Judge Gordon found that the defendant was without an office or authority to use the name, even though the organization does exist.
